Figure 1.1 displays two examples of text input fields, each showing four states: default, focused, and two states of validation feedback (error and success).

Left Example:

- Default: A light gray rectangular box with the placeholder text "Текст" in a light gray font.
- Focused: The box has a thin blue border and the text "Текст" is in a darker gray font.
- Error: The box has a thin red border and the text "Текст" is in a red font. Below the box, the text "Имя содержит недопустимые символы" (Name contains invalid symbols) is displayed in red.
- Success: The box has a thin green border and the text "Текст" is in a green font. Below the box, the text "Заполните поле" (Fill the field) is displayed in green.

Right Example:

- Default: A light gray rectangular box with the placeholder text "Текст" in a light gray font.
- Focused: The box has a thin blue border and the text "Текст" is in a darker gray font.
- Error: The box has a thin red border and the text "Текст" is in a red font. Below the box, the text "Имя содержит недопустимые символы" (Name contains invalid symbols) is displayed in red.
- Success: The box has a thin green border and the text "Текст" is in a green font. Below the box, the text "Заполните поле" (Fill the field) is displayed in green.

[illegible]A screenshot of an Android phone screen. At the top, there is a light gray text input field with the placeholder text "SMS сообщение" in a light gray font. Below the input field is a standard QWERTY keyboard. The keyboard has white keys with black lettering. The top row includes a back arrow, a speech bubble icon, a "GIF" button, a clipboard icon, a settings gear icon, a three-dot menu icon, and a microphone icon. The letter keys are arranged in three rows: QWERTY, ASDFGHJKL, and ZXCVBNM. The bottom row includes a "?123" button, a comma/semicolon button, a globe icon, a white key labeled "English", a period/apostrophe button, and a blue "→" button. Below the keyboard, there is a light gray bar with three navigation icons: a back arrow, a home circle, and a recent apps square. At the very bottom of the screen, there is another light gray text input field with the placeholder text "SMS сообщение".
